WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No. PCT/US2005/002717

-	E	ox No. I Basis of the opinion
•	1. V tł	Vith regard to the language , this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in The language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.	า
		This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the tollow language , which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).	inç
2	2. W	ith regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and ecessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
		type of material:
		□ a sequence listing
		☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing
	b.	format of material:
		☐ in written format
		in computer readable form
	c.	time of filing/furnishing:

3.		In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table relating there has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.	÷tc
4.	Ad	ditional comments:
	Во	x No. II Priority
1.	⊠ _.	The validity of the priority claim has not been considered because the International Searching Authority does not have in its possession a copy of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed or, where required, a translation of that earlier application. This opinion has nevertheless been established on the assumption that the relevant date (Rules 43 bis .1 and 64.1) is the claimed priority date.	∋
2.		This opinion has been established as if no priority had been claimed due to the fact that the priority claim has been found invalid (Rules 43 bis .1 and 64.1). Thus for the purposes of this opinion, the international filing date indicated above is considered to be the relevant date.
3.	Add	litional observations, if necessary:

Re Item III.

Claim 20 is a clear violation of R. 67.1 because it claims a medical method. Even removing direct reference to cutting of a molar socket, etc. the claim implicitly includes these steps and is still not allowable.

Re Item V.

1 Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US 2002/160335 A1 (ASHMAN ARTHUR ET AL) 31 October 2002 (2002-10-31)

D2: US 2001/004711 A1 (LAZZARA RICHARD J ET AL) 21 June 2001 (2001-06-21)

D3: EP 1 145 691 A (BIOLOK INTERNATIONAL, INC) 17 October 2001 (2001-10-17)

2 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 1, 12

2.1 The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claims 1 and 12 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT. Documents D1 (Fig.4), D2 (Fig. 1) and D3 (Fig. 3) all disclose an anchoring element having the same outer shape as that of the present application and also having an internal dead-end bore which constitutes the 3rd and 4th surfaces/means.

3 DEPENDENT CLAIMS

Dependent claims 2, 3, 11, 13, 14 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and/or inventive step (Article 33(2) and (3) PCT). Documents D1-D3 all have a frusto-conical first portion and means for compressing the interradicular bone, just like is claimed in claims 2, 13, 14. Regarding claims 3, the choice of having a frusto-conical internal bore is an obvious choice available to the skilled person and solves the same technical problem as that solved by the shape of the internal bores in D1-D3, and is thus not inventive.
